Istanbul Center of International Law has been organizing academic events to promote International Humanitarian Law (IHL) in Turkey since 2016. This year, the ICIL and Turkish Red Crescent will organize an IHL program named after Kırımlı (Crimean) Dr. Aziz Bey who was one of the founders of the Turkish Red Crescent movement in the 19th century. Due to the current situation regarding the COVID-19 outbreak, we will conduct all the activities online. The program comprises an advanced IHL summer school and a practical IHL moot court competition.

Dates:

- 30 May - 17 July: Application Period (Applications until 1 July will be considered as early bird and will benefit a 20% discount to the registration fee.)
- 21 July: Announcement of the participating teams
- August 2020: Advanced IHL Summer School consisting of 8 online lectures (two lectures per week) prerequisite for the competition.
- 7-11 September 2020: Competition dates

Who Can Apply?

All institutions teaching IHL may apply. An institution may be represented in the competition with a maximum of one team. In case of more than one application from an institution, only one team will be selected based on the overall quality of the application. A team consists of three students. Only bachelor and master students can apply; Ph.D. students are not allowed to take part in the teams. Students over 30 years old might only apply on an exceptional basis since there would be an imbalance in IHL knowledge and practice. All participants would have to be enrolled as students at the time of application.

Selection Criteria:

- 60% the quality of the answers for questions in the application form
- 40% assessment of CVs of applicants (e.g. relevant IHL education and experience)

Working Language: English

How to Apply?

Applicants should send their CVs (in English), an official document proving they are currently enrolled as students and the application form as one PDF file to azizbeyihl@icil.org.tr before the deadline. You can access the application form here.
